

Week 0 Report for SoC

1. Stock Split: There have been no stock splits for Infosys in the last 5 years. The last stock split was announced on 30 November, 1999 and the Ex-Split date was 24 January, 2000. The stock was split with a ratio of 2:1. (Source: <https://www.moneycontrol.com/company-facts/infosys/splits/IT/>)
2. Dividend payouts: The dividend payouts by Infosys in the last 5 years are (Source: <https://www.moneycontrol.com/company-facts/infosys/dividends/IT/>)

Announcement Date	Record Date	Dividend Date	Dividend (Rs.)
17 April, 2025	2 June, 2025	Final	22
17 October, 2024	30 October, 2024	Interim	21
18 April, 2024	3 June, 2024	Final	20
19 April, 2024	3 June, 2024	Special	8
12 October, 2023	26 October, 2023	Interim	18
13 April, 2023	5 June, 2023	Final	17.5
13 October, 2022	28 October, 2022	Interim	16.5
13 April, 2022	1 June, 2022	Final	16
13 October, 2021	27 October, 2021	Interim	15
15 April, 2021	1 June, 2021	Final	15
14 October, 2020	26 October, 2020	Interim	12
20 April, 2020	1 June, 2020	Final	9.5

3. Major events and their effect on stock price in last 5 years

In July of 2020, Infosys announced their quarter 1 FY21 earnings, which were way ahead of street estimates. This caused its stock price to rise greatly hitting all time highs and went into and uptrend until around April 2021.

In May and June 2021, Infosys faced a period of both notable financial performance and scrutiny. The company announced its Q1 earnings, reporting strong growth and upgrades to its full-year revenue guidance. Simultaneously, it faced a potential insider trading case, with an interim ex-parte order from SEBI naming two of its employees. Additionally, Infosys initiated a share buyback program. At this time also its stock price was getting all time highs and was set in an uptrend again until around January 2022.

Around February 2022, Infosys laid off some 400 trainees on a very short period, leaving those people nowhere to go to. They faced some backlash due to this and this was reflected by a dip in their stock price.

In April 2022, Infosys' earnings in Q4 were released, which were lower than expected. Hence, the stock price had a sudden fall off from the previously going trend.

A day after Infosys posted its Q4 results in April 2023, several brokerages turned cautious about the stock's future performance outlook and most have trimmed their target price for the stock. This caused the Infosys stock price to have a breakdown from its support. In December 2023, Infosys appoints Jayesh Sanghrajka as its CFO, due to this the stock price sees an upward trend for some time.

January 2024, Infosys acquires semiconductor design service provider, InSemi. This sees another upward trend for the stock price.

May 2024, Infosys completes acquisition of InSemi and this makes the stock price bounce up. In July 2024, Infosys collaborates with TDC Net. Due to this there is a sudden fall in the stock price but it comes back up.

At almost end of October 2024, Infosys expands its Strategic Collaboration with Meta. This has a negative effect on the stock price at it seems a sharp dip.

After that on 30 October 2024 Infosys Finacle announces Data and AI suite to help banks accelerate their AI journey. Also Infosys collaborates with SouthPark Council to provide digital learning platforms for Residents, Colleges and Schools in early November 2024. This has a positive support from people as is reflected in the rising stock prices.

In Jan 2025, when Infosys announced the third quarterly report. Stock prices saw a downfall.

Feb 2025, Infosys collaborates with Lufthansa groups and Lufthansa systems. This had a really bad impact on the stock price.

Then again in Feb 2025 it announces an Open-Source Responsible AI toolkit which also sees a bad response from investors and stock price decreases further.

March 2025, Infosys Announces Expansion of Strategic Collaboration with Citizens to Propel AI-led Transformation. This sees a further drop in the stock price.

In mid of April 2025, Infosys announces its reports for Q4, acquires the Leading Cybersecurity Services Provider, The Missing Link. Also, Mitsubishi Heavy Industries join Infosys-led JV in Japan, HIPUS. All this had a positive response from the people and stock is now in an uptrend.

Comparison between Tata Motors Ltd. And NIFTY 50 (OHLC from 29 May,25)

Parameter	Tata Motors Ltd.	NIFTY 50
Open	724.50	24825.10
High	728.70	24891.15
Low	720.00	24680.60
Close	724.45	24833.60
52-week high	1161.85	26216.05
3 year return	63.75%	51.37%